

Birthday presents. Very pleased with them ([redacted] has them) Said [redacted] checked her H/neck [redacted] and she had no H/work. I told her if she was lying no club tomorrow. Watched Ghost. When [redacted] went into day goodnight to [redacted] she was sobbing her heart out very very upset. Wearing her mum. [redacted] doesn't think it's a very good idea for [redacted] to watch this again. Talk [redacted] to miss to calm her down.

[redacted] Back at 4.00 pm. no luck with getting a job. Hung around till tea. Did his jobs. Then went down to [redacted] to watch the football. Back at 10.30 pm. no replies, I'm afraid to his advert. [redacted]

Thursday 5th March.

[redacted] awake 4.00 am. Ate a good breakfast. Watched the little Mermaid. Then, himself + [redacted] went out the back garden to play with their Bow arrows. Also assisted [redacted] in feeding fluff. Wanted to walk to school with [redacted].

[redacted] Downstairs 9.45 am. In great form. Larger than usual breakfast. Fed fluff. Played out [redacted] off to school happy.

[redacted] wet this am. She looked very kind. Her eyes were all puffed (from crying last night) I made no comment about the film, as I didn't want her going off with it again fresh in her mind. She wanted a cuddle before she left, which I gladly gave her. Left more in a drained mood than a sad mood. Perhaps it's not such a good idea for her to watch this film right now. Not with her Dad just