Re [REDACTED]

We had [REDACTED] arrive here this afternoon in a very distressed state. Father claimed not to have been informed that his son had been transferred from here to the Prison. Both parents were upset that the boy was in Prison and felt it was all our fault and say they are to make complaints to Attorney General.

We were of the opinion that father was in the Court when the boy was heard and sentenced.

We also understood that the C.C.O. contacted parents, is this so, or do we have to write and inform of moves?
